Let's Start!

Let's take a trip to the bank with Sally!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about money and banking.
- I can reject an offer.
- I can make requests.

Ask your partner:

- Do you have a bank account? Why or why not?
- What are three things you do at the bank?

Let's Explore!

Sally is at the bank. The bank teller makes offers. Does she accept them?

* When you make an "offer", you ask if you can do something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Bank Teller: Hello. What can I do for you?
Sally: I would like to deposit some money.
Bank Teller: Not a problem. Cash or a check?
Sally: Cash.
Bank Teller: How much are you depositing?
Sally: $250.00.
Bank Teller: Which account? Your checking or savings?
Sally: Checking.
Bank Teller: Okay. Would you like me to update your bankbook?
Sally: No, that's alright. Could you tell me what the balance of my checking account is?
Bank Teller: Certainly. Wow, it's $1,007,500! Is this your account?
Sally: Yes, it's mine.
Bank Teller: Would you like to transfer any of your money into your savings account?
Sally: Not at the moment.
Bank Teller: Alright. Can I do anything else for you today?
Sally: Actually, I received a pamphlet with my bank statement in the mail. I wanted to ask about that credit card.

Learning Points

At the Bank

A bank is a safe place to keep your money. The bank provides you with financial services (services related to money).

The people you talk to at the bank are called bank tellers. They can help you with many things like:

- opening an account
- depositing money into your bank account
- taking money out of your account
- cashing checks
- applying for a credit card

Examples:

• Bank Teller: How may I help you?

Customer: I would like to open an account.

Bank Teller: Would you like to apply for a credit card also?

Customer: No, thanks.

Modals for Requests

You use modals can, could and may to make requests in banks, shops, stores, etc. Making requests is one of the ways you interact with people when you need a service.

It is important to be polite when you make requests for a service. Use the words please and thank you.

Examples:

- Can I open an account?
- Could I speak to the manager, please?
- May I ask you a question?
