Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information involving apologies, thanks, suggestions and invitations in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about banking and money.
- I can express possession.
- I can accept or reject an offer.

With your partner:

- What are your favorite things to bring on a trip?
- Do you bring a lot of money with you when you travel? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

Sally receives an e-mail from the bank. What does it say?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Dear Ms. Davis:

We would like to thank you for joining the AXIS card community. We hope it makes your trip more convenient.

We are currently offering an upgrade to all our cardholders.

Please e-mail for more information.

Learning Points

Talking About Banking

The people you talk to at the bank are called bank tellers.

They can help you with many things like:

- opening an account
- depositing money into your bank account
- taking money out of your account
- cashing checks
- applying for a credit card

When you are at the bank, the bank teller can make offers. You can accept or reject these offers. It is important to be polite by saying thanks and saying no politely.

At the bank, it is common for you to make requests. You can use modals and Infinitives to make requests.

Examples:

• Bank Teller: How may I help you?

Customer: I would like to open an account.

Bank Teller: Would you like to apply for a credit card also?

Customer: No, thanks.

Possessive Adjectives and Pronouns

Possessive pronouns can take the place of nouns. You use possessive pronouns to talk about things that belong to someone.

You use possessive adjectives to describe nouns. They come before the noun.

	Possessive Adjectives	Possessive Pronouns
I	my	mine
You	your	yours
He	his	his
She	her	hers
We	our	ours
They	their	theirs
